“ WHAT IS GENDER BASED VIOLENCE?

Gender-based violence (GBV) is an umbrella term for harmful acts of abuse perpetrated against a person's will and rooted in a system of unequal power between women and men. Although it is important to recognize that men and gender-non-conforming individuals can also experience gender-based violence, the majority of GBV victims are women. In fact, one out of four women in the world have experienced any kind of GBV at some point in their lives.

WHAT KINDS OF GBV ARE THERE?

- 1. Physical Violence: This involves any form of physical force that causes bodily harm, injury, or pain. It includes hitting, punching, kicking, slapping, and any other physical assault.
- 2. Sexual Violence: This includes any sexual act or behavior that is perpetrated against a person's will. It includes rape, sexual assault, harassment, coercion, and exploitation.
- 3. Emotional/Psychological Violence: This form of violence includes behaviors aimed at causing emotional or mental anguish, such as verbal abuse, humiliation, intimidation, and threats.
- 4. Economic Violence: This refers to controlling someone's ability to access economic resources, preventing them from financial independence, or withholding financial support as a means of control.
- 5. Cyber Violence: With the rise of technology, this form involves harassment, threats, or intimidation using digital platforms such as social media, emails, or messaging apps.
- 6. Honor-Based Violence: This occurs when individuals are subjected to violence, often by family members, due to behavior perceived as bringing dishonor or shame to the family or community.
- 7. Forced Marriage: This involves compelling someone to marry without their consent, often through coercion, threats, or pressure.
- 8. Female Genital Mutilation (FGM): This involves altering or injuring female genital organs for non-medical reasons, often causing severe physical and psychological harm.
- 9. Trafficking: This includes the recruitment, transportation, harboring, or receipt of individuals through force, fraud, or coercion for exploitation.

COMBAT GBV, SUPPORT AND BECOME AN ALLY:

Talk About It: Tell people that hurting others because of their gender is wrong. Spread this message to friends, family, and schoolmates.

Be Kind and Listen: If someone tells you they've been hurt, listen without judging them. Be there for them and offer help if they need it.

Ask for Help: If you or someone you know is in trouble, ask a teacher, parent, or someone you trust for help. Don't keep it a secret.

Respect Everyone: Treat everyone fairly and with respect, no matter their gender. Stand up against teasing or bullying.

Learn About Equality: Understand that boys and girls should have the same rights. Learn and share stories about treating everyone fairly.

Support Good Rules: Encourage rules that protect people from being hurt because of their gender. Ask grown-ups to make sure these rules are followed.

Be a Good Friend: Support your friends and make sure they feel safe. If you see someone in trouble, try to help or get help from an adult.

Be Brave: If you see someone being hurt or teased, speak up or find someone who can help. It's important to stand up for what's right.

When violence against women is no longer societally accepted, no longer kept secret; when everyone understands that even one case is too many. That's when it will change.
